

CALL FOR PAPERS

12th PhD-Student Workshop on Industrial and Public Economics (WIPE)

Reus, February 8th – 9th 2024

Organized by

ECO-SOS Research Center on Economics and Sustainability
(Universitat Rovira i Virgili)

The Research Center on Economics and Sustainability (ECO-SOS) is a research center created in 2010 as CREIP (Research Center in Industrial and Public Economics), that recently moved to sustainability issues, in line with research interests of its members. Specifically, ECO-SOS studies the connection between sustainability and the following areas of interest: environmental and climate economics, health economics, regional and urban economics, education and labor market business and innovation, energy and natural resources, industrial organization, economic policy, game theory and environmental conflicts, and transport and tourism.

Workshop objectives

WIPE aims to be an academic meeting for PhD students to interact with other young scholars, postdoc, and senior researchers to exchange experiences, research ideas, ongoing projects, and future research activities in the fields of Industrial Organization and Public Economics. WIPE will include about 18-20 presentations, each of them being discussed by a participant at the workshop, will also host a keynote lecture by Andrés Carvajal (University of California). Former keynote speakers at WIPE have been: Inés Macho (UAB and BSE), Mar Reguant (Northwestern University), Natalia Fabra (UC3M), Kai Konrad (Max Planck Institute), Mark Armstrong (University of Oxford), Alessandro Gavazza (LSE), Luis Cabral (NYU), Jose Luis Moraga-Gonzalez (VU Amsterdam), Tommaso Valletti (Imperial College London), Xavier Vives (IESE), and Massimo Filippini (ETH Zürich).

Keynote Speaker

Andrés Carvajal is Professor at the department of Economics of the University of California at Davis. He is an economic theorist, with emphasis in general equilibrium, financial economics and mathematical economics. Starting in January 2020, he is Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Mathematical Economics. He was Co-Chair of the 2018 North American Summer Meeting of the Econometric Society, Co-Editor of the Canadian Journal of Economics and Associate Editor of the Journal of Mathematical Economics. Andrés Carvajal investigates the ways in which imperfections in markets affect the performance of economic systems and, ultimately, the well-being of the members of a society. He has also done research on the development of empirical tests of models of rational behaviour, on the informational and behavioural foundations of equilibrium theory, and on environmental economics. His work has appeared, among others, in Economic Theory, Econometrica, Mathematical Social Sciences, Journal of Mathematical Economics and Journal of Economic Theory.

WIPE Awards

During the 12th WIPE the Department of Economics will award the young researcher presenting the best paper of the workshop. Furthermore, the Chair for the Promotion of Firm Innovation will award the young researcher presenting the best paper on R&D and innovation. Each prize consists on a EUR 600 cash award.

The decision will be taken by a jury composed by members designed by the Department of Economics and the Organizing Committee of the WIPE, and the verdict will be announced during the closure of the workshop. Note that in exceptional and duly justified cases, the jury may award two papers, and the prize will be divided equally.

There will be also an honorary award to the best discussant.
